Words from the Editors

Hi SHOBA friends and family!

Spring is finally here, flu season is on the wane, and I hope that we have all been able to climb back in the saddle and enjoy some time in the woods and on your favorite trails!

SHOBA continues to increase in popularity across the country and around the world. More and more pages on Facebook and other social media sites are being created for the specific purpose of bragging about and starting discussions on Single-Footing horses. And since SHOBA is the only registry available to register these uniquely talented horses, our registry will be reaping the benefits.

Every year an increasing number of calls, emails, and e-messages are arriving from around the world inquiring about what the Single-footing horse is, where they can be purchased, and which stallions can ship semen. We are constantly referring these interested folks to the Breeders Directory, the Stallion page, and the Bulletin Board on the SHOBAonline.com website. And recently, we have been receiving inquiries concerning trainers for the Single-Footing horse!

Thanks to your continued hard work and enthusiasm, SHOBA is becoming a registry to be reckoned with!!

Ben and Beth Cantrell

WHAT'S GOING ON IN SHOBA?

The first quarter of 2018:

16 Horses registered

4 Horses Transferred

64 New or Renewed Members

SHOBA's number one priority is to preserve and promote the naturally gaited single-footing horse. SHOBA will do this by providing, to the best of our ability, a strict gait performance horse registry that is backed up with equine DNA, which provides an accurate, scientific ancestry for each registered horse.

SHOBA recognizes that the single-footing horse is as unique as its uncompromised four beat lateral gait. We are very proud of the single-footing horse and hope to see them excel on the trails and in the show rings. Our intention is to do nothing to jeopardize the integrity of the single-footing horse in anything we do or support.

SHOBA believes that we are blessed with the unique single-footing horse to preserve, promote, enjoy, and provide a means of fellowship with other horse riders. We will promote family oriented trail rides full of fellowship, good times, and horse riding with these wonderful fast, smooth, single-footing horses to support this belief.

Campfire Recipe

Breakfast Subs

INGREDIENTS

- 6 (6") sub or hero rolls or sourdough baguettes
- 10 eggs
- 2/3 cup milk, cream or half and half
- 8 bacon strips, cooked and crumbles
- 1 1/2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
- 4 green onions, sliced
- Salt and pepper to taste

DIRECTIONS

Cut a deep "V" through the top of each roll stopping 1/2" from the bottom. Pull out some bread from the center, leaving 1/2" thick shells (boats). Set each boat in the center of a large piece of sprayed foil.

In a bowl, whisk together the eggs and milk. Stir in bacon, cheese, onions, salt, and pepper. Divide mixture evenly among bread boats. Wrap foil around food to make six flat packs.

On grill: Set foil packs on the grate over medium heat and cover grill. Cook 15 to 20 minutes.

On fire: Set foil packs on a few hot coals surrounded by more heat. Cook 15 to 25 minutes, rotating occasionally.

Cook until puffed and set in the center. Let rest 5 minutes

Giving y'all a heads up!

We will be increasing the Membership Fee to $50 a year beginning 2019. The cost of printing the Scoop (because of the new look) has gone up considerably and so has the price of postage. At present, it is costing just under $10 per copy to print and mail and that doesn't include the envelope and address label. At the same time, we will also be increasing the Registration Application Fee to $50. These fees have remained constant over the 12 years of SHOBA's existence, but will still cost less than most other registries' fees.

Colostrum is the first milk that a mare makes to feed her foal. Consumption of an adequate amount of the colostrum is critical to the health and well-being of the newborn foal since it provides infection-fighting antibodies, vitamins, minerals, energy, protein, fat and acts as a laxative to help the foal pass the meconium (first stool).

Unlike human babies, when foals are born they have no disease-fighting antibodies in their blood. Therefore, a foal must ingest colostrum in order to absorb the antibodies needed. These antibodies are made by the mare and will hopefully provide specific protection for the bacteria and viruses in the foal's environment.

Once the foal is born, the first six to eight hours are critical since that is when the colostrum is most efficiently absorbed, but if no colostrum is absorbed within 24 hours, the foal will most likely die. Since she is only able to absorb the antibodies from the colostrum for that short period of time, the foal needs to nurse as soon as possible. After three to six weeks of age, the foal will start making her own antibodies but often retains some protection from the mare until four to five months of age.

Fortunately, most of the time after the foal is born, she struggles to her feet, finds the udder, and nurses well. The foal then absorbs the colostrum from his dam and has no problem. If not, though, a veterinarian can supply the needed replacement.

There has been much debate about how much colostrum is required to protect the foal from infection. One study showed that one to two liters of a normal mare's colostrum should be sufficient to give a foal a high level of immunoglobulin—enough to protect the foal from infection. It is difficult, if not impossible, to measure how much a foal drinks. The quantity is more important for foals that cannot nurse. Most healthy foals will nurse for one or two minutes, six or seven times an hour. So watch and If your foal appears weak and sleeps a lot, he might not be getting enough colostrum.

The debate over the use of pads between the hoof and the shoe on speed racking horses has heated up lately. Many believe they add weight, but based on my research, the extra weight is negligible because of the types of material being used.

Full flat pads are one of the most commonly used pads by farriers who use the pads in:

Protecting the sole and frog from rocky and rough terrain.

Providing added protection for a sore-footed or tender-soled horse.

Supporting the sole and frog.

Providing protection for an injured foot — keeping dirt and debris away from a wound or other injury while also holding medicated hoof packing in place.

“Years ago, leather was the choice,” says farrier, Blake Brown from Penryn, Calif., “We’d buy sides of hide and cut our own out of them. Eventually, manufacturers started making them. But many farriers still prefer leather over any other material...”

“High-tech hoof pads fit between the shoe and the hoof to absorb concussion and dissipate force,” explains Derek Poupard, CJF (Certified Journeyman Farrier), “They differ from regular pads by their composition and thickness. They are more cushioned with more shock-absorbing qualities.”

Though traditional pads are primarily made of leather, there are also pads made of plastic or Styrofoam. Most are for preventing a shod hoof from becoming bruised from rocks or uneven hard surfaces. A high-tech pad is composed of materials such as ethylene vinyl acetate, soft gels, hard plastic, honey-combed plastic, polymers, etc. Some will mold to the foot’s shape and retain that shape for an extended period, rather than compressing.

The majority of the high tack pads, though, and pour in compounds are used for hoof problems, including laminitis.

So if you are considering using a protective pad, keep the type of terrain you will be traveling on in mind.

10 It's Time For The Show!

Although many SHOBA members and their horses have been showing in racking, speed racking and other gaited classes for years, the idea of a SHOBA designed class has only been in effect for the past four years.

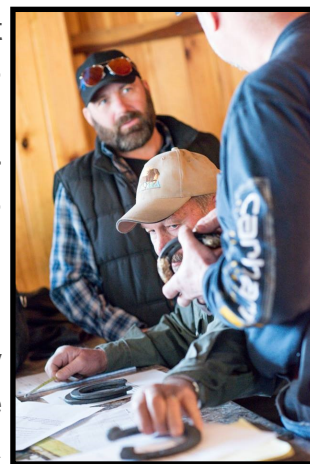

Meeting host Fleetwood Johnson

The First show that offered the SHOBA Ultimate, SHOBA Trail Pleasure and other SHOBA designed classes was at the Germantown Charity Horse Show in Germantown, Tennessee in 2013.

In 2017, SHOBA sponsored classes at the VA/KY District Fair Show at the Wise County Fairgrounds in Wise, Virginia, the Germantown Charity Horse Show in Germantown, Tennessee, the CPM Memorial Show in Clintwood, Virginia, the Midsummer Charity Horse Show in Dungannon, Virginia, and the Burley Fest Show put on by the SCRHA in Dungannon Virginia.

In 2018, SHOBA will once again be at the Wise County Show in June, the July Memorial Show in Clintwood, the Midsummer Charity Show, and the Burley Fest Show in August. A fifth class, SHOBA Ladies Only, will be added to the four classes offered in the past: SHOBA 4 and Under, SHOBA Juvenile, SHOBA Trail Pleasure, and SHOBA Ultimate.

Trent Ferguson, Ben Cantrell and Junior Shupe

In a late January 2018, a meeting, attended by 18 show enthusiasts, SHOBA judges and show knowledgeable riders, was called to discuss the upcoming season. One of the decisions reached was that SSP shoes would be allowed in the show ring since the weight between 3/8" x 3/4" and the SSP was negligible. But no action devices, boots, tie downs or crops will be allowed, just as in previous years.

Carlos Stanley and Ben Cantrell listen to the discussion

Paul Cook and Wanda Helm enjoy an after meeting lunch

"Our judges are judging the horses, not the rider," Ben Cantrell, SHOBA owner, explained. "We're going to set a standard," he continued, "and once we've set that standard, people are going to bring their best horses."

"And they're just going to get better," agreed Anthony Hart.

Jackie and Jody Potter attended the show meeting

SHOBA will again be soliciting sponsors to help defray the cost of plaques, ribbons, show fees, and other cost related to showing with sponsors getting an ad in the Scoop and on the website.

"If we can keep this up and continue as we have started, (interest in SHOBA horses) will go worldwide," said SHOBA Judge Trent Ferguson.

Teresa Williams and Josh Burchfield participate in discussions
